Dear Sir/Madam,
I am one of the former linguist/interpreter to Italian Carabinieri who worked shoulder to shoulder with the Italian military between 2011 and 2012.
In my previous emails I attached my certificates of appreciations I received as consequence of my invaluable service to Italian carabinieri to their successful mission completion. And now I am left behind in Afghanistan.

Dear Sir/Madam:

[REDACTED]

As the situation has been deteriorating, my life is in grave danger. The city is now under siege and Taliban has check points in all corners of the city and checking every vehicle passing by. They are systematically looking for people who are associated with coalition forces and working with government of Afghanistan. And being a former interpreter, I am sure if it continues this way they will find me and if they do so they will behead me in front of my family. It is because I am the former interpreter. Zaranj, the capital city of Nimruz province, will collapse to Taliban very soon. Taliban are everywhere in the city. Only the office of governor, police headquarter and NDS office are under the control of government. The rest of the city is under the control of the Taliban. Considering all this, I am under severe threat and any moment you may not hear from me anymore because I will be killed by Taliban.

I hope that the government of Italy, Parliament, and Embassy of Italy in Kabul take this humanitarian action towards me, my family and include us in their future evacuation flights so that we can live peacefully in Italy.

I am looking forward to hearing from your office soon.

Best regards,
[REDACTED]
Former Italian Interpreter
